BEING THE THIRD AFTER
BISSEXTILE OR LEAPYEAR,
AND THE FIFTEENTH OF
AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE.

Calculated for the Meridian of 42 deg. 23m. north and 71 deg. 18m. west of Greenwich—Fitting indifferently,

NEWHAMPSHIRE, MASSACHUSETTS. F. HOLLIS
ISLAND, VERMONT and NEWYORK.

AS thro' the zodiac moves the changing year,
The varying stars go down and disappear;
The vernal bloom the summer suns destroy,
And barren winter blasts th' autumnal joy;
So change the human race around the ball,
And gliding generation rise and fall.

As Congress in the Impost Law have conformed to the new money of account established by the late Congress, which alone may make it interesting to many to become acquainted therewith, but still more so, if this beginning should lead to the establishment of this new mode of reckoning, in the ordinary business of life. Through want of the habit of a familiarity therefore, some such table as this below may be found not altogether useless, but may contribute to the conveniency of a considerable number of the good people of these United States, with this view it is published.

AN Irish gentleman being taken ill of a yellow fever at Jamaica, a lady who had married in that Island, indirectly hinted to him in the presence of an Irish physician, who attended him, the propriety of making a will in a country where people were so apt to die; the Physician, thinking his judgment called in question, tartly replied, “by St. Patrick; Madam, I wish you would tell me where people do not die, and I will go and end my days there.”

A CLERGYMAN took for his text the following words—“Vow, and pay unto the Lord thy vows.” An Indian heard him very attentively, and stepping up to the parson, thus accosted him; “I vow I’ll go home with you Mr. Minister.” “You must go then,” replied the parson. The Indian afterwards vowed to have supper; and then to stay all night. “You may,” replied the Clergyman, “but I vow you shall go in the morning.”

ACERTAIN gentleman, very fond of the pipe, frequently used to retire from his office to a neighbouring house for fire; the owner which not having the most friendly disposition, one day surlily said to him, “do you think I may always find fire for the old Smoker?” “It is but just you should at present, retorted he, for he will have to find fire for you by and by.”

NOW ring the Bells ; bring out your Cheer,
To welcome in the new-born Year ;
And laugh and sing, and drink and roar ;
Sorrow shall come ere it be o'er.

A few choice SENTENCES.

LOST time is never found again ; and what we call time enough, always proves little enough. Sloth makes all things difficult ; but industry easy ; and he that riseth late shall trot all day, and shall scarce overtake his business at night ; while laziness travels so slowly, that poverty soon overtakes him.

Drive thy business, let not that drive thee.

Early to bed, and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.

What signifies wishing and hoping for better times ? We may make these times better, if we stir ourselves.

Industry need not wish, and he that lives upon hope will die fasting.

He that hath a trade, hath an estate ; and he that hath a calling, hath an office of profit and honor.

At the working man's house hunger looks in, but cares not enter : nor will the bailiff or the constable enter, for industry pays debts, while despair increaseth them.

Diligence is the mother of good luck, and God gives all things to industry.

Then plough deep, while sluggards sleep,

And you shall have Corn to sell and to keep.

Work while it is called to-day, for you know not how much you will be hindered to-morrow—
TO-DAY is worth two TO-MORROWS.

Never leave that till to-morrow, which you can do to-day.

Handle your tools without mittens, remember, the cat in gloves catches no mice.

Keep thy shop, and thy shop will keep thee.

You would have your business done, go ; if send.

He that by the plough would thrive,

Himself must either hold or drive.

The eye of the master will do more work than both his hands.

Want of care does us more damage than want of knowledge; and not to oversee workmen, is to leave them with your purse open.

A fat kitchen makes a lean will,

*Many estates are spent in the getting,
Since women for tea forsook spinning & knitting
And men for punch forsook hewing & splitting.*

If you would be wealthy, think of saving, as well as of getting.

The Indies have not made Spain rich, because her outgoes are greater than her incomes.

Away then, with your expensive follies, and you will not then have so much cause to complain of hard times, heavy taxes, and chargeable families.

*Women and wine, game and deceit,
Make the wealth small, and the want great.*

What maintains one vice, would bring up ten children.

If you would know the value of money, go and try to borrow some.

So says Poor Richard.

THE BACHELOR.

---

HERE tranquil hours with all the sweets of peace
Glide smoothly on, and ev'ry joy increase:
No ruffling cares disturb my soft repose,
My midnight slumber no obstruction knows—
My heart exults, when first the morning smiles;
The grey ey'd eve my fleeting time beguiles,
My servants wait, obedient at my hand,
And chearful execute the mild command:
Among my neighbours, generous friendship reigns
Nor calumny another's honor stains.
I live in harmony, and free from strife;
For I'm not blest, good Heav'n! with a wife.
